

BRITISH MUSEUM PATTERN BOOKS

African Designs

REBECCA JEWELL

Published by British Museum Press

No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise, without prior permission.

© 1994 Rebecca Jewell

Second impression 1995

Published by British Museum Press

A division of The British Museum Company Ltd
46 Bloomsbury Street
London WC1B 3QQ

British Library Cataloguing in Publication Data.

A catalogue record for this book is available from the British Library

ISBN 0-7141-8074-2

Designed by Roger Davies

Typeset by Create Publishing Services Ltd.

Printed in Great Britain by The Bath Press, Avon

Acknowledgements

My greatest thanks are due to Eva Wilson, author of the other books in this series, who gave me the initial idea and the encouragement to study African patterns. I am very grateful to Dr John Mack, Director of the Museum of Mankind, for allowing me access to the vast collections of African material, and for his advice and comments on the book. I thank the many members of staff at the Museum who helped me, in particular Julie Hudson, and also Chris Spring, Dr Nigel Barley and Jim Hammill. Special thanks also go to John Picton at the School of Oriental and African Studies, for advice at the outset. Finally, my thanks are also due to my family for their support and help.

TT
753
J48
1994

740.96
J548a

Contents

Introduction page 7

Notes on the Designs 16

Further Reading 24

THE DESIGNS 1-100

